

Hy-Vee is always looking for high quality local grown produce. Tied to this it needs to be fair priced with dependable delivery times. But first and foremost, high quality.

Hy-Vee is different than most chain stores. Each Store Director and Produce Manager has the autonomy to purchase local grown produce independent from each other store. There is not one person to contact, nor one drop off point. This makes it more difficult for the grower. However, not only are relationships built between the grower and Produce Manager, but it brings the grower closer to the customer.
